

Same statistics, destroyed semantics → no effect

1.7b, $\alpha=4.0$, 20 redraws per stochastic null. Permuted labels rebuild directions from the SAME residuals with operator labels shuffled; the subspace null draws inside the span of the real directions (right home, wrong content).

Structural probes are nonzero for known reasons: -case(source) alone contributes $\approx$ half the margin (uninstall); +case(target) boosts the whole answer category (operand specificity lives in generation, §composition); and additions to the residual stream persist downstream, so an early-layer injection is not actually absent from the workspace.
