

Where the operator vector has to land — and what it does not buy

1.7b, $\alpha=4.0$. “query” = the last prompt token (where the direction is read); “operand” = the entity token; “wrong” = the sentence-initial token (structurally irrelevant, but still upstream of the answer). Bars are means over all ordered pairs $\times$ operands; CIs are operator-level cluster bootstraps.